TAFT TAKES HAND IN ROW

Notifies Czar That 1832
Treaty Will Be Abrogated
Dec. 31, 1911

FORESTALLS ANY ACTION ON PART OF U. S. SENATE

President May Lock Horns
With Congress Over Ignoring Sulzer Resolution

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—It was officially announced to-day that President Taft had notified Russia that the treaty of 1832 would be abrogated on December 31, 1912.

In this action the President took the matter out of the hands of Congress and forestalled any possible action of the Senate on the resolution of Congressman Sulzer, against which Russia protested.

It has been said that Taft would have vetoed the resolution had it been forced through the Senate to-day. The President's action was announced following a conference with Senators Rayner, Burton and McCumber, members of the Senate foreign committee.

It is said that Taft is undecided, whether to send the Senate a note to be read in open session or a confidential communication explaining his action. Senator Rayner argued for the open discussion plan, but the President was unwilling to adopt this policy. What the result of President Taft's ignoring of the House will be, is problematical. Taft is convinced that as the primary treaty-making power of the government, he had ample power to act. But Congressman Sulzer will not admit it. When the Senate foreign committee met, Senator Cullom, chairman of the committee, supported Taft's attitude and the committee is expected to take the diplomatic ground that there had been a "difference of interpretation" of the treaty, rather than that Russia de facto violated its terms.

PRESIDENT WILL SEND IN TWO MESSAGES THIS WEEK
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Two messages probably will be sent to Congress this week by President Taft. The wool tariff message probably will be presented Tuesday. Later in the week will come one dealing with the various government departments.

NOTIFICATION ALREADY DELIVERED TO CZAR
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Notification of the abrogation of the treaty of 1832 was sent on Friday to the American ambassador, who delivered it to the Russian government yesterday.

TAFT INFORMS SENATE OF ACTION TOWARDS RUSSIA
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Notifying that body of his action in notifying Russia of the impending abrogation of the treaty of 1832, a message from President Taft was read in the Senate this afternoon. Senator Lodge then introduced a substitute for the Sulzer resolution as approved by the Senate foreign committee, but Senator Heyburn objecting to its immediate consideration, action on the Lodge resolution was postponed until tomorrow.

WRECK WAS FATAL TO 13—MORE THAN SCORE INJURED

ODESSA, Minn., Dec. 18.—Thirteen persons were killed and a score injured here at 5 o'clock this morning when a fast silk train on the St. Paul road crashed into the rear of the Columbian Limited.

Two of the dead have been identified as the wife and daughter of J. F. Richards, superintendent of the trans-Missouri division of the St. Paul road, stationed at Moberdy, South Dakota. Eleven corpses have already been removed and it is believed that others are in the wreck. The dining car conductor was killed. The rear sleepers of the Columbian train were telescoped, and only four cars were left on the track.

Passengers, engineer and trainmen in the forward part of the train escaped with bruises. Fire broke out in the overturned cars, the flames being subdued by the townspeople. The corpses were carried to this city, and laid out in rows.

It is not known why the Columbian train stopped shortly after passing the station here. It was backed down when the silk train crashed into it. Occupants of the two rear sleeping cars were caught in their berths, and several were instantly killed. Others died while being rushed to assistance within the town. Several of the others injured may die.

Odessa is seven miles east of Ortonville and is the junction point on the St. Paul road. The relief train from this point arrived within half an hour of the collision.

NAT GOODWIN'S IT APPLIES FOR SETTLEMENT A TELEPHONE RECORDED FRANCHISE

Documents Filed Here Show That He Is to Pay Edna Goodrich $60,000
Long Uncertainty

LONDON AGREEMENT IS PUT ON BOOKS

Placentia Property Made to City Attorney Heathman Is Raise Comedian's First Payment of $15,000

Four bulky documents having to do with the property affairs of the famous comedian, Nat Goodwin, and the famous actress, Edna Goodrich, were placed on record here. About two years ago Goodwin bought a fine orange grove at Placentia from W. B. Hervey. Among the documents recorded here is a mortgage upon that ranch for $15,000, which amount is used in making one of the payments to Edna Goodrich, according to the settlement entered into between the couple on Nov. 11. The first document recorded was one drawn up in London on Aug. 14, 1908, before the marriage. By this document Goodwin transferred to a trustee, T. H. Dudley, of Ocean Park, all of his property in this state, including realty and bonds in San Francisco and realty at Ocean Park. Dudley was instructed to manage the property, and divide the income equally between the two contracting parties.

Goodwin and his wife did not get along well together, as everybody knows, for the newspapers of the land from one ocean to the other printed columns of stuff about their separation. In Los Angeles Goodwin brought suit to annul the London document. It was after that that Goodwin, who professionally is Nat Goodwin, but who legally is Nathaniel Carl Goodwin, Jr., entered into an agreement of settlement with Edna Goodrich Goodwin. It is understood that the actress secured deeds to part of the property. That, however, is not shown in the documents filed here. They show that she is to receive $60,000 in cash, of which $5000 is to go to her New York attorneys. These payments are: On Dec. 15 $15,000; on Jan. 16, 1912, $30,000; on April 16, 1912, $15,000. By the agreement Goodwin is to dismise her suit in Los Angeles, and Mrs. Goodwin relinquishes all claims under the London agreement against Goodwin's property.

In order to raise the first $15,000 a mortgage for that amount was given on Dec. 15 to C. T. Crowell. The property mortgaged is the Placentia ranch.

CRUELITIES TALES WERE VERIFIED

Patrol Boat Makes Many Arrests For Violating the Law

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The whispered tales of cruelties, which for months have drifted in from the desolate bays and creeks along Chesapeake Bay, where the fleet of 1500 oysterboats make the beds during the winter, were verified when A. Lincoln Dryden, skipper of the custom's yacht "Old Glory," sent out to patrol the oyster fleet, made his report.

In its first three days of work the patrol boat arrested 21 men for shocking violation of the navigation laws. One captain was arrested for attacking a crew member with a hatchet. The man jumped overboard, and was lifted from the icy water just in time to save his life.

The government put a patrol on the fleet after John McNamara, a family man of Williamsport, Pa., was drugged and strangled in Baltimore and drowned when he leaped overboard to escape. Three weeks later Capt. Aldie Dorsey of the sloop on which McNamara was held prisoner, was set upon by his crew. He was murdered, but in the fight he injured two of the crew so badly they died before their trial.

Pacific Telephone Makes Application, Thus Ending Long Uncertainty

MUST PAY THE TWO PER CENT AT START

City Attorney Heathman Is Drawing Up Ordinance to Be Read Tonight

THE APPLICATION
Los Angeles, Dec. 18, 1911. "Gentlemen: The undersigned, The Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co., respectfully informs your honorable body that it is prepared and herewith makes application to your honorable body, acting on behalf of the city of Santa Ana, for a franchise to conduct its telephone and telegraph business within the said city. And the undersigned hereby respectfully requests that your honorable body give this matter the earliest possible consideration."

"THE PACIFIC TELEPHONE & TELEGRAPH CO."
By J. W. Gilkison, "Division Commercial Supt."

The Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. has applied to the city trustees for a franchise, and thus is ended a period of uncertainty that has lasted over six or seven years. The application for a franchise was filed by J. W. Gilkison of Los Angeles, division commercial superintendent, and as a result the city trustees tonight will give a franchise ordinance its first reading.

City Attorney Heathman stated to-day that he had found a provision in the franchise law of the state whereby the Pacific company must begin immediately with paying two per cent of its gross income as a franchise tax for the use of the streets of the city. The ordinance is being drawn up today.

"Ordinarily," said the city attorney, "a company taking out a franchise is exempt from this payment for a period of five years, but with the case of the Pacific company it is different. The predecessors, the Sunset company, held a franchise, but the company quit using it, and under the law the new franchise will require that the two per cent of gross receipts be paid in at the end of the first year, and for each year thereafter."

The taking out of the franchise here will be in line with the acts of the company elsewhere since the state courts have decided that the Pacific company's contention that it had a right to free use of the streets because it does an interstate business would not hold water. The decision that knocked the Pacific company out on that point came in what is known as the Pasadena case.

At the last meeting of the city trustees the city attorney was instructed to demand that the Pacific company take out a franchise. The demand resulted in the filing of the petition for a franchise.

TWO PREHISTORIC SHELL CREATURES FOUND IN BOHEMIA

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 18.—The progenitor of all the lobster and the original oyster that existed cons before the first man who was brave enough to swallow one, have been added to the geological collection of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and they are only two of 2000 specimens of petrified remains of prehistoric creatures gathered by Prof. Hervey Shimer and Mrs. Shimer during a six months' tour of Bohemia, France, England, Ireland, Wales and other countries.

The lobster, a fine specimen, existed about 50,000,000 years ago, the geologists calculate. It was found in the mountains near Bohemia and many miles from the sea.

FRANKLIN BRIBERY CASE GOES OVER TILL MONDAY

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—Owing to the illness of Detective Browne, head of the County bureau of investigation, proceedings against Bert Franklin, charged with bribing Permanent McNamara Juror Robert Bain, were postponed until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. His preliminary examination on this charge had been set for today.

Assistant District Attorney Ford, asked the case be set over because Browne, who is credited with having gathered the evidence and working up the case for the prosecution, was too ill with gripe to appear. As former Governor Henry T. Gage, Franklin's chief counsel, did not oppose the request, the case went over.

HURRY UP INDICTMENT IN DYNAMITING CASE

Judge Instructs: "Get This Man, and Get Him in a Hurry"—Olaf Tveit-moe Reaches Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—"Don't lose any time. Get this man and get him in a hurry." This was the parting instruction of Federal Judge Wellborn this afternoon as he placed a warrant for service in the hands of a federal deputy marshal. That Judge Wellborn had not waited for the federal jury report to issue an indictment in the regular way, was explained by the intimation that it was feared the person, whoever he may be, might grow suspicious and elude the officers.

It is declared on good authority that the man sought is one who was connected with the McNamara brothers.

Clarence Darrow was asked if he knew anyone who had been connected with the defense who might be arrested for any cause. He said he did not. When asked where John E. Harrington was at the present time, he said he did not know. "Perhaps he has gone east," said Darrow. "His work was finished so far as the McNamara case was concerned, ten days ago. If they should want him for anything whatever, I am sure he will show up, though."

The federal grand jury which has been investigating the alleged dynamiting conspiracy reported to Federal Judge Wellborn at 2 o'clock this afternoon, when several indictments, it is said, were to be returned. Whether these are in connection with the Chinese smuggling cases, which occupied the attention of the jury all morning, or the result of the probe into the so-called dynamiting conspiracy could not be learned.

Tveitmoe Arrives
Olaf Tveitmoe, secretary of the Building Trades Council of San Francisco, arrived here at 10 o'clock this morning and went directly to the federal building, where he was closeted with Government Agent Lawler. He remained in conference with Lawler for fifteen minutes, then went to the Hayward Hotel to await a call tomorrow from the federal grand jury, before whom he will testify concerning the alleged dynamiting plans.

CLANCY WHEELED INTO CONFERENCE WITH LAWLER

Attended by a nurse and his physician, E. A. Clancy, the San Francisco labor leader, was wheeled to the federal building this afternoon, and assisted into the office of Government Agent Lawler, who is directing the probe into the alleged dynamite conspiracy. For forty-five minutes he was closeted with the government agent, and when he emerged he was visibly excited. He was assisted to his invalid's chair and sent back to the hotel. Clancy refused to give any inkling of the matter discussed, other than that it had to do with the government probe into alleged dynamiting.

GERMANY SEIZES PAPERS IN PLOT

Charges England With Plan to Blow Up the Harbor of Wilhelmshaven

COLOGNE, Dec. 18.—The Rhenish Westphalian Zeitung published a story of the alleged discovery of a plot on the part of Great Britain to blow up Wilhelmshaven.

The Zeitung professes to have received its information from one of the best informed officials, who said the postal authorities, becoming suspicious of many money orders in favor of deck officers and chief mates, finally seized some of the letters.

These showed that the plans to the entrances to Wilhelmshaven was harbor, as well as plans of the water supply and the contents of the secret code book, had been betrayed to the British admiralty.

FREE TEXT BOOK BILL IS PASSED

Senate Sends It Back to House to Have Amendment Acted on

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 18.—The free text book amendment passed the Senate this afternoon by a vote of 27 to 12, with Caminetti absent. He was among the original promoters of the measure. A call of the Senate was immediately ordered to bring him in to vote. The Senate bill now goes to the Assembly for the approval of the Curtin provision relative to the state board of education. By a vote of 15 to 23 the Senate at noon rejected the Wolfe amendment to the free text book constitutional amendment, which would have furnished free books to parochial and other private schools.

Telephone to the People's New Laundry and one of our drivers will be glad to call for your work.

At first it was feared that Mrs. Wallace had suffered internal injuries, but today the physicians think that her injuries consist of broken ribs and arms and severe exterior bruises. Mrs. Wallace is 63 years old.

PEACE PLANS FAR FROM BRIGHT

Chinese Imperialists Meet Rebels at Shanghai—Friction Develops

WU TING FANG ASKS FOR RETURN OF PROVINCES

Chinese Envoy Practically Rejected Suggestion of Rebel Leaders

SHANGHAI, Dec. 18.—Representatives of the imperialists and rebels met here this morning to discuss peace, but considerable friction has already developed and chances for the cessation of hostilities are far from bright. Prospects for an amicable adjustment of conditions became less favorable when the suggestion that the imperialists relinquish the provinces of Shansi and Anhui was practically rejected.

Wu Ting Fang, head of the rebel delegation, proposed that the imperialists, now occupying the two provinces, give them over to the rebels as a sign of good faith. Wu Ting Fang argued that they were taken in violation of an armistice, the occupation occurring after the imperialists had pledged themselves to cease hostilities while negotiations for peace were being carried on.

Tung Shao Yi, leading the imperialists' peace commission, said it would be impossible to accept the suggestion until he had communicated with Premier Yuan Shi Kai.

EMPIRE'S REPRESENTATIVE ARRIVES AT SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI, Dec. 18.—Tang Shao Yi, the representative of Premier Yuan Shi Kai, accompanied by his suite, arrived here this afternoon, and was met by a great concourse of natives, including the foreign consuls.

ENGLAND AND JAPAN WILL OFFER TO MEDIATE IN CHINA

TOKYO, Dec. 18.—It is unofficially stated that Japan and Great Britain have offered, or are about to offer, to mediate between the Chinese government and the rebels, and will adopt further measures if this is refused. The newspaper Yorozen says that Japan, on December 11, notified China of Japan's intention to make such an offer and that Japan had made an agreement with England by which the two governments would act in concert in the matter.

SUNSET CO. ASKS FOR FRANCHISE

Pasadena Suit Result Prompts Telephone Co. to Alter Former Tactics

LONG BEACH, Dec. 18.—An application for a business franchise by the Pacific States (Sunset) Telephone Company, to do business in this city has been granted, the action of the City Council putting an end to the controversy between the municipality and the corporation that has been before the public since last May when the franchise given the company a number of years ago expired.

At that time the company contended it did not need a franchise to carry on business, but as this question was settled recently by a suit brought in Pasadena in which the city won, the company made the formal request here. The company has recently constructed a modern office building on Elm avenue and is preparing to extend its lines and business in this locality.

TEACHERS HOLD MEETING TODAY

Dr. James: "Columbus" Most Marvelous Poem as Showing Nation's spirit

THREE DAYS HERE
AND TWO ELSEWHERE

Afternoon Is Taken Up in Section Work—Exhibits
Open to Public

The annual teachers institute of the teachers of Orange county was begun this morning at the Santa Ana High School, and will continue until Wednesday afternoon, after which time the teachers of this county will meet for two days with the Southern California Teachers' Association in Los Angeles.

County Superintendent of Schools Mitchell presided at the general session this morning. This afternoon is devoted to section work, teachers of high schools being gathered in one room, teachers of grammar and primary grades in other rooms.

The morning session opened with a solo by Miss Georgia Schropshire, Orange High School; invocation by Rev. Russell, pastor of the First Baptist church of Santa Ana; singing by a quartet of girls from the Orange High School, and a reading by Miss Winifred Roberts of Santa Ana.

The feature of the morning's program was a lecture by George Wharton James of Pasadena, well known lecturer and writer, on "The California Spirit in California Literature." Dr. James recited a poem very effectively, and his lecture was replete with illustrations of California poems. In closing he recited Joaquin Miller's "Columbus," which he designated as the most marvelous poem ever written as designating the spirit of the future of a nation.

"Sail on; sail on; sail on!" That is my message to you today," he said.

The chairman of section work this afternoon are Miss L. Ada West and W. C. Roberts of Santa Ana, and Delbert Brunton of Fullerton. Speakers from outside the county were Miss Lucia C. Lowe of San Francisco, James F. Chamberlain, expert on teaching geography, of Los Angeles Normal, and Clayton F. Palmer, head of the agricultural high school at Gardena.

The study in the high school section distinctly voiced the modern turn of high schools toward vocational training.

The public is invited to attend the sessions of the institute. The program for tomorrow is:

Tuesday Forenoon
Primary Section (Central Building)
Chairman—L. Ada West.
9:15-10:00—"Reading Session" (1st grade), Miss Lillian Whitney.

School Exhibit

Everyone is invited to attend the sessions of the institute and to visit the school exhibits in the Commercial High School building. Among the exhibits is a fine lot of work done by the students of the Fullerton Polytechnic High School. With the campaign for polytechnic bonds in Santa Ana but a few days ended, an exhibit of polytechnic work ought to prove of unusual interest here.

There are exhibits of various kinds of class work from grammar schools over the county.

Vicarious Candy
Down among the tenements of the old Greenwich village, where factories are becoming unpleasantly plentiful, a group of children was playing in a gutter. A passerby walked slowly, watching the active preparations of a "little mother," aged about seven, who was marshaling her charges in to order, apparently in preparation for some urban excursion. Something had gone wrong and one small kid was howling.

"Shut your noise, Tommy Higgins, and be good this minute!" admonished the motherlet, with a promissory smack. "If you don't stop like I tell you I'll leave you right here in the mud gutter. You can't go with us till you close your noise and be a good boy. Do you know where we're going? Well, we're going in the next block to the candy factory to smell the candies cookin'. And do you know what they're makin' today? Well, it's chocolate creams and pop'mints."

Crime of the Comic Paper Supplement Strongly Denounced

I remember reading a vigorous editorial in The Outlook some months ago against the wretched daubs of color and contemptible attempts at humor with which many of our newspapers flood the entire country each Sunday. Is there no way to bring home to American parents a conviction of the crime which they are committing against their own children in housing up to their admiration the hideous combinations of color, the vile grammar, spelling, and forms of expression, and questionable morals of the so-called "comic" supplements?

There is no denying that the sheets have a fascination for children who have access to them. Today I saw a little girl of seven climb up into the lap of her thirteen-year-old brother in order to share the coveted paper and to have him explain the picture to her and read aloud such choice expressions as, "We are a bunch of tough nuts."

One Sunday, several years ago, a baby of three or four toddled up to me on the board-walk at Asbury Park to lip the request that I get him a "funny paper."

In my home town of Chester, in the eastern part of this state, I have seen the children from two or three squares around gather at a neighbor's house of a Sunday afternoon for their weekly class in "unesthetics."

Commercial expediency, the only argument for the comic supplement as now conducted, has been allowed to outweigh our duty to the children and our responsibility for the beauty or the tawdriness of their ideals. If commercial expediency is to be consulted, it is to be remembered that no newspaper would suffer financially if the comic supplement were dropped or if the modified by all at one and the same time—a fact which suggests that some sort of national or state supervision should at once be made suddenly and effectively binding upon all.

The result could be attained by the creation of national or state boards that should do the same work in regard to the pictures which now go into the "comic" supplement as many American homes that certain boards now perform for the moving picture shows which delight so many children; or the powers of the boards which already exist might be enlarged to include the supervision of the colored Sunday supplement.

"If American newspapers would devote the money and ingenuity which now go into the 'comic' supplement to a sincere endeavor to reproduce each week one or more of the world's great pictures, with the beauty of coloring and truth of portraiture which modern methods make possible, they would go far toward becoming a blessing where at present they are a menace and a curse."

LUCKY LINEBARGER IS IN THE MIDDLE OF OIL ACTIVITIES

Supervisor Need Only Wait
Until Adjoining Lands
Are Proven Up

Anaheim Plain Dealer: Supervisor D. S. Linebarger is probably the most happily situated gentleman in Orange county with reference to land holdings which other people are bent upon attaching high value to through the development of surrounding properties. Mr. Linebarger's situation in this respect may be said to be ideal and so happy as to make the fairy book stories look feeble in comparison. His friends say that the supervisor deserves it all and that the fact that things are as they are is merely a demonstration by the Supreme Ruler that to the deserving reward shall come in large packages, or words to that effect, the scribbles forgetting the exact scriptural expression and on the spot of the moment being at a loss as to where to look for it.

It is not to be imagined that Mr. Linebarger is looking upon a smiling, world without memory of considerable hustling with the object of making things the rosy hue that they are. He has been at it for years, watching his corners and edging in wherever he could make his way. In consequence of which he now has the properties alluded to above and which there is excellent reason at the present time to believe will bring results along in the winter or next spring that will make $20 gold pieces entirely permissible to the gentleman for use as heel plates. Because he sure has a whole lot of money looking his way in altogether friendly fashion.

Last summer Linebarger and his associates in the 40 acre tract adjoining Standard Oil holdings next to the Amalgamated gave a lease to the Fisher Oil Co., which has since been busy drilling on the property and is confident of a fine well. Amalgamated work in putting its last two wells in the oil sand goes a long way toward strengthening the Fisher position and hopes, while the favorable indications prevailing in the Standard Oil hole is another card on which the Fisher is entitled to pin a good deal of faith. If Standard wins here, the Fisher is sure of success.

Further east in the valley, on the other side of the road from the Fisher lease, Mr. Linebarger has another forty. He has been going out there frequently during the last several years and bending his back to the tilling of the soil. In consequence of which he took a fine crop of oranges from the property last season and will get a still better one this coming season. Also has made the property a thing of beauty and given it a fine market value as orange land. With this work he is keeping right ahead, and most every day can be found on the ranch. Meantime, Standard Oil and the Union Oil Co., to say nothing of the Fisher and Schaffer are busy as bees with the sinking of wells all around this forty, intent upon proving the area to be high class oil ground. All that Linebarger has to do is to sit still and wait for the holes to come in, when his own price on ground for well locations within his proven forty will be speedily forthcoming if he does not conclude to lease and take royalty. Further on east in the valley he has recently acquired another forty in company with associates, the latter including E. K. Bencher, it is good orange land and is to be improved along that line. Also it is in the center of active development work being carried on by the Standard and the Union and if the results that are expected are secured by these companies the Linebarger-Bencher forty will look like a bonanza. All of which goes to show that it pays to keep hustling, with eyes open and no bets getting away.

It may be added that the Linebarger situation at the present time is a refutation of the old holding that opportunity comes a knocking at the door but once in the life time of the individual. Those who have bucked the line of course know that the old theory is full of holes, for man makes most of his opportunities and can keep them coming right along in a regular procession. It is not a chance and the stick-it-to-it-for-the-job. Anyhow, Linebarger some years ago had large holdings of oil lands up in Ventura county, east from the Sesme field of the Union Oil Co., where it got its start and made the best part of the enormous capitalization it has piled up. The Linebarger lands, however, were out of the limits of the proven area and were so inaccessible because of rough country that twelve years ago it did not look much as if they would ever come under the drill. And he let opportunity get away from him there, apparently, by selling out for a comparatively small figure, something in the hundreds, and came down to the Fullerton field, where, as told above, he resumed the making and picking up of opportunities. Up north in Ventura county matters dragged along slowly, but development worked its way in gradually and that rough country which he once held is now considered the best oil ground in the Ventura county field. It is all high gravity country, and recently they have brought in what is expected to make a thousand barrel well of the high gravity stuff—the biggest well ever got in the high gravity field.

An article of furniture is useful—and in almost all cases, ornamental, as well.

CLOSING DEAL FOR SALE FRESNO LANDS

Cubbon and Parker Return
From Fresno, Where Proposition Was Made

John Cubbon and C. E. Parker returned yesterday from Fresno, where they took steps to close a deal for the sale of ten sections of Fresno county land, lying eleven miles from Fresno, at Raisin City. Cubbon and Parker represented the Santa Ana & Fresno Land Co., the stock of which is owned entirely by Santa Ana men. The company bought the eleven sections of land two years ago, and the sale is being made at a good profit. The papers in the sale will probably all be signed today.

CHICAGO TO OPEN CITY SCHOOLS FOR DANCING PARTIES

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—With the purpose of keeping the young people of Chicago away from evil associations, nine of the city's school buildings will be thrown open at least two evenings a week for social enjoyment. Games, dancing, dramatics, gymnastics and moving pictures will be arranged under the direction of the principals of the schools and representatives of the juvenile protective league. The entertainments are not to be restricted to pupils.

As an experiment, dances, were given in two of the schools last week. They gave so much pleasure that it was decided to enlarge the scope of the plan.

IMPARTIAL WINDY CITY NOW SEEKING DEMOCRATIC MEET

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—With the political element entirely eliminated, the committee which won the Republican convention for Chicago last week has joined hands with the Democratic committee headed by John W. Eckhart, named a committee of seventy-two representative Chicagoans and initiated a mutual campaign to get the necessary funds to finance both conventions.

Fred W. Upham, assistant treasurer of the Republican national committee and chairman of the movement which landed the Republican convention, is chairman.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

A GOOD WORK

Since Donald Lowrie's story of prison life at San Quentin began in the columns of The Bulletin, the office of that paper has been besieged by ex-prisoners out of work and looking for jobs. All that it has been possible to do has been done for them. A number have been placed and are doing well. Others have been helped financially pending the securing of work for them. But with each day the number has increased until at present it is almost impossible to handle every case. It takes time and effort to find positions for men who are willing to work but cannot find work to do.

Convinced that there is a necessity for organization toward this end, and to relieve the increasing demand upon the members of The Bulletin staff who have done their best to keep up the situation, it has been decided by the Bulletin management to appeal to the public for funds to establish a bureau for the purpose of placing discharged prisoners at work. Already the movement has the moral support of many prominent persons who have been consulted, and it is planned to get in touch with various sections of the state for the purpose of locating persons in need of workmen who are willing to give ex-prisoners a chance. To establish their bureau on a practical working basis will require about $4000 a year. Who will subscribe toward it? Subscriptions—so much a year for three years—not contributions, are desired. This will insure the permanency of the bureau, because in three years it is hoped that the bureau will have proven itself worthy of the support of the state. If you feel that you can subscribe toward this fund, the Register will be glad to receive the subscription pledge of anyone who desires to have a part in this good work. We will give due credit and forward the pledge to the Bulletin.

THE PEOPLE'S RIGHTS

The principle of conservation now is being given practical application in the administration of the affairs of Kansas City. For years it was the custom to give away the valuable rights of the people for the asking, but the principle now has become so thoroughly established that none of the rights that belong to the people shall be granted to private individuals without a valuable and just compensation. This principle also is being applied to prevent the waste of the lives, health and morals of the people—not only in Kansas City but in many towns and cities, and to some extent in states and nation as well.

CAUSE AND EFFECT

From all the information we can gather, the merchants of Santa Ana are doing a big holiday business already and the biggest is yet to come. There are two potent causes of this very pleasing effect. One is that the merchants have bigger and finer stocks this year than ever before, and the other is that they began their holiday advertising campaigns earlier and on a bigger scale than ever before.

HOW DID IT HAPPEN?

The Register would like for some politico-mathematical expert to tell us whether or not the school bonds would have carried without the votes of the women—and he (or she) should tell us how the conclusion is reached. Give us the figures and tell us where they come from.

UNIVERSITY HAS FIRST OF ITS KIND

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—A chair in the literature of the United States has been established in the University of San Marcos, at Lima, Peru, the State Department has been informed. This is the first instance of a South American University including the study of the literature of this country in its curriculum. The University of San Marcos was the first university established in the new world.

The installation of the new chair is the result of a few lectures on the subject delivered last year by Prof. Felipe Barreda Laos, which proved so popular that he has been designated to take charge of the new course.

SEA-TO-SEA FLIGHT SHAFT

First Continental Flight and Aviator to Be Honored By Monument

LONG BEACH, Dec. 18.—The City Council has granted permission to the Pike Business Men's Association to erect a suitable monument at the spot on the beach east of the pier where Aviator Cal. P. Rodgers ended his coast-to-coast flight.

It is planned by the committee in charge of the affair that the shaft shall be made of reinforced concrete with a receptacle for the storage of records of the trip with suitable photographs, and extracts from the Los Angeles and Long Beach newspapers descriptive of the flight, at the base of the pedestal.

Wild Elephants in Siam

No estimate can be made of the number of wild elephants in the jungles of Siam. In one of the elephant "drives" in the Aythya district recently more than two hundred were seen at one time. These drives are held yearly in the various districts of Siam, during which great numbers of the animals are driven into a stockade. The finest specimens are then captured and later tamed and trained for domestic use. The district of Aythya is famous for its drives, and the king usually attends when large events are arranged for. Permission to capture wild elephants may be obtained from the Siamese government, and for each animal caught a royalty of $150 is paid; but such a capture is exceedingly difficult and expensive, and the animal often dies before it is properly trained.

Uncle Sam's Untiring Search For Potash

Fruit growers especially, people of Southern California generally will be interested in the progress of the search Uncle Sam is making for potash.

The United States Geological Survey has just issued a short report, by Hoyt S. Gale, on the progress of the work of deep drilling for potash which is being carried on in Carson Sink, Nev., near the town of Fallon. While no discovery of potash salts is announced by the Survey, Mr. Gale's report is a distinct and valuable contribution to the discussion of potash, setting forth clearly the broad, basic reasons which lead the geologists to the belief that they will find, sooner or later, in some one of these desert basins commercial deposits of soluble potash such as constitute the great Stassfurt beds in Germany.

Last winter Congress appropriated $20,000 to enable the Geological Survey to prosecute a search for potash, the money becoming available July 1. An appropriation of $12,500 was also made to the Bureau of Soils for a like purpose, and it was mutually agreed that the two appropriations should be administered in the spirit of co-operation, with an avoidance of duplication in work and territory.

In a summary of the occurrence of potash in the United States, published by the Survey last winter, five general sources were mentioned: (1) igneous rocks, (2) marls, (3) alunite, (4) salines, and (5) organic sources, including wood ashes, beet-sugar molasses and residue, wool scourings, and seaweed or kelp. The Geological Survey has confined its activities to work on mineral saline deposits and is devoting a large part of its appropriation to the project of drilling for possible deposits of buried salts.

The first field work under the new appropriation was done in Southern Wyoming, in the geologic formations termed the "Red Beds," which are known to be rich in salines, suggesting for many reasons the possibility of carrying deposits of the Stassfurt type. A considerable amount of study had already been devoted to this area and accordingly the data relating to the Wyoming salines were collected and reviewed and this work was followed by field examinations. These investigations indicated that the assumption of the existence of beds of potash salts in the Laramie Basin in Southern Wyoming is logical, but the data at hand, which were fairly complete, proved to be chiefly of negative character so far as revealing any unusual amounts of potash is concerned.

Realizing on Early Survey Work

Extension of the duty of the Great Basin desert region revealed this as the most promising area for the Survey's first drilling operations. This conclusion was based largely on the early geologic work of G. K. Gilbert and I. C. Russell, who, in Survey Monographs I and XI, describe in scientific detail the prehistoric Lakes Bonneville and Lahontan. These ancient lakes were, in a former geologic age, enormous bodies of water, many times the area of Lake Superior, and Mr. Gale states that no more convincing reason can be advanced for the belief that immense quantities of saline material must be included in the strata underlying the desert sinks of the Great Basin than that set forth in the philosophic writings of these eminent geologists. His report contains direct quotations from these monographs, describing in detail the origin and structure of the old lake beds, and he adds that there exists in these treatises, representing field investigations in the early eighties, a wealth of maturely digested data on which to base the proposed plan of operation in 1911. From the study of these reports with their excellent maps it was concluded that the most promising test of the hypothesis of possible buried salines in concentrated form would be somewhere in the low portions of either the Lahontan or the Bonneville basin. The Lahontan basin was chosen because that lake is known to have never overflowed. The drill site selected is in sec. 30, T. 21 N., R. 30 E., in Nevada.

Drilling in Nevada

A drilling outfit having been shipped from Pittsburgh, operations were begun on October 1 with a 12-inch drill hole and the site was named the Timber Lake Well. The report gives the log of the well, which on November 18 had reached the depth of 219 feet. Evidence of the geologic period of desiccation in the form of crystallized beds of saline material has not yet been found in the strata penetrated, but it is expected that the drilling will be continued until at least a depth of 1000 feet is reached.

The discovery of such saline deposits, though its likelihood is supported by the best geologic information of today, says Mr. Gale, should perhaps be regarded as a possibility rather than a probability. Inquiries are being received asking for an estimate of the probabilities of success in such an enterprise, with special reference to private undertakings based on the same plans. This, according to Mr. Gale, is a matter of judgment and each inquirer is left to draw his own conclusions from the facts presented in the report of the Survey's progress. The value of this possibility has of course been carefully considered and it is believed that as a public enterprise, at least, a reasonable test is not only justified but highly desirable. The report also contains information with reference to the collection and tests of potash samples being carried on in co-operation between the United States Geological Survey, the Bureau of Soils, and the department of geology of the Mackay School of Mines in Nevada, as well as an account of the activities of private enterprises in the search for potash.

A copy of Mr. Gale's report may be obtained on application to the Director of the United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

OUR NEXT LEADER

(Published by Request)
In 1912, who shall it be?

La Follette, Roosevelt or Taft?
Who shall lead the G. O. P.

Be pilot of its honored craft?
Because the "Private Interests" hold

A mortgage on our William T.
He cannot be the pilot bold.

To steer it to sure victory.
The people that once trusted him,

No longer see in Taft the man
To lead to victory again.

Against the Democratic clan.
Roosevelt, they say, is out the race;

He cannot now in honor run;
Though he'd admirably fill the place.

We'll have to hunt another one.
Teddy said NO a dozen times

And each time meant it, too, I guess.
Yet as I read between the lines,

As "unanimous choice" no means yet.
But let us look at it as though,

Teddy is not now in the race;
Unto whom can this honor go?

Who as Pilot can fill the place?
Let's see! They say that honest Bob,

Wisconsin's noble, trusted son;
Would not let "Private Interests" rob

The "Nation's" Till as some have done.
They say Bob promises to conserve

The people's interests, poor or rich;
If this is true he will deserve

The honored place without a hitch.
So let us pull for La Follette,

As Pilot for our ship next year;
He'll steer us off the shoals, you bet.

The party need not have a fear.

CLOSING MUSICAL

Conservatory Students Show- ed Excellent Methods of Music Instruction

The closing students' musicale of the year was given by a number of pupils from Miss Johnston's and Miss Gardner's classes at the Orange County Conservatory of Music on Saturday afternoon. The work presented was well calculated to demonstrate to those who attended the excellence and thoroughness of the methods and talent employed in this institution whose growth has been of such extraordinary rapidity.

Most of the numbers were played without notes, the memory work being a feature of the child's musical training upon which especial emphasis is laid. The playing of the boys who took part well proved that girls should not be given a monopoly on musical education. Too often is music considered all very well for girls but not exactly a fitting accomplishment for boys. No opinion could be more erroneous than this one, however.

The following pupils participated in the program: Rebecca Joplin, Lotie Morris, Andrea Decker, Mildred Joyce, Merle Wilson, Ardell Taylor, Flora McFadden, Viola Hayes, Donna Horton, Neva Armstrong, Blanch Hill, Florence Miller, Lucile Miller, Winnifred Vickory, Waldo Burgess, Warren Fletcher, Felton Browning, Georgia Schmidt, Edith Havens, Clara Thorman.

College Romance

Miss Enid Behrmer of Los Angeles, who is well known here through many visits here and participation in social functions of Santa Ana will be married this evening to Dr. Roy Malcolm, professor of history and political science in U. S. C. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride-to-be's father, L. E. Behrmer, the foremost impresario of Southern California.

The love affair leading up to the marriage of tonight is a real college romance. Of it the Los Angeles Examiner says:

"Miss Behrmer was taking a special course in U. S. C. and before her studies were concluded, her instructor became her fiancé. She is a very popular young woman, particularly among the university teachers and students, and her talent for music has given much pleasure to her friends. She is a member of the Entreeux Sorority, U. S. C."

Among the Santa Anans who will attend the wedding reception are Misses Daisy Leslie and Hazel Roberts.

The price for the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir have been greatly reduced from their ordinary standard for tomorrow night's performance at the opera house. The best seats in the house are to be had for seventy-five cents, many excellent ones for fifty cents. Everyone who loves beautiful vocal music should by all means go to this concert.

Watch this space. We have important things to tell you from time to time.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY EVENT

Mrs. Cooper Surprised by Loving Friends on Reaching Age of 78 Years

A most happy surprise party was that which gathered at the home of Mrs. Sarah Cooper on Saturday to celebrate that venerable lady's seventy-eighth birthday anniversary.

In the morning she was invited away from home by her sister, Mrs. Gustlin, during which time about a dozen of her old friends, all of whom at some time had resided with her in her Main street apartments, seized the opportunity to make themselves again at home and to prepare a most bountiful spread of good things that tempt the palate.

It is needless to add that upon her return her surprise and joy to find this demonstration of thoughtfulness and affection were quite beyond her power to express in words.

At her request, while all were standing at their places around the festive board, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow," was sung and this was followed by a beautiful and touching prayer offered by Mrs. Brisendine.

The hours of the afternoon were most pleasantly whiled away in conversation and reminiscence. Many hearty congratulations were showered upon Mrs. Cooper in her happy attainment of so many years of life, upon her wonderful activity of mind and body and upon choosing Santa Ana, California, as the place where her declining years may be filled with the blessings of home and climate.

Those present on this happy occasion were Messrs and Mesdames A. Gustlin, George Myrick, Brisendine; Messrs. George and Levi Richardson, Clarence Gustlin; Messrs. Mary and Lenna Myrick, Alma Saunders, Mrs. H. Cole, Miss Vina Cole, Miss Mary Bulson.

Two Weeks' Vacation

Vacation time, the glad Christmas vacation, has arrived for the hundreds of students in the city schools, and they will have a happy two weeks of play. Many pleasures have been made for the interim which will embrace the two splendid holidays, Christmas and New Year's.

The happy youngsters will all the more appreciate the holiday time from the joyful fact that they are able to see looming up in the near future, a handsome polytechnic high school and a commodious new grammar school lately voted by the progressive citizens of Santa Ana. A great gift for the school Christmas stockings.

Here's to a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year for the school children of Santa Ana.

Civics Class Meeting

Very gratifying was the good attendance at the Civics Class last Saturday at its meeting.

Prof. Emory Ratcliffe, teacher of history in the Santa Ana High School delivered a very scholarly and interesting address on "The Origin and Development of the Party System of Our Country."

Prof. Ratcliffe also explained the various ways in which the different parties have changed from time to time as politics of self-interest dictated; also the different ways of nominating candidates for president. All this was practically new to the members of the class and was highly appreciated by the new voters.

The class is growing splendidly, new members being enrolled at each meeting.

Past Matrons to Meet

The Past Matrons' Association will meet with Mrs. Crawford, 1425 North Main, Tuesday. A good attendance is desired.

PUPILS' RECITAL

Mrs. Merigold Presented Piano Students in Pleasant Musical

Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Elwing, Mrs. W. T. Merigold presented her piano pupils in a successful recital. As the guests to the number of about sixty, entered the home a most pleasing sight greeted them. The music-room, in a rich brown being decorated with bright red poinsettias and the living-room, which opens nicely into the music-room, being in a pretty blue with decorations of violets. The first half of the program was given by the younger pupils, each and every one receiving well merited applause and showing skilled training on the part of the teacher. In this part of the program the Jap Dolls, the poor lone-some Dollies, given by Jean Ross, Evelyn Trickey and Vera Elwing, is especially worthy of mention and the little tots responded to a rousing encore.

The last half of the program was most entertaining, showing much talent as well as careful training.

Lillian Conover Thompson, the whistling artist of Los Angeles, was well received by the appreciative audience and responded to a number of hearty encores.

The trio work of Misses Newman, Heil and Duggan was marvelous, these young artists being complimented most highly.

At the close of the program Mrs. Merigold presented each pupil with a bouquet of violets, after which the guests were invited to the yellow breakfast-room for refreshments.

Here again was a scene of beauty, the yellow shades of the candleabra, the decorations of yellow chrysanthemums, together with the yellow tints of the room appealing most beautifully to the artistic temperament.

The following is the program rendered:

For Elsa Reuter

Miss Elsa Reuter was given a delightful party on Saturday night by her mother, Mrs. N. A. Reuter, 315 South Main street, in honor of her fourteenth birthday. The house was glowing with Christmas colors, flaming poinsettias, holly and smilax uniting in a vivid red and green color scheme.

Games were played, prizes being given in one merry contest in which Miss Rona Cranston won first prize, for girls; Karlton Scott, boys' first prize and Monroe Birden, consolation.

Musical in the form of instrumental solos was furnished by Misses Gertrude Fuller and Elsa Reuter. Later a dainty supper of sandwiches, olives, hot chocolate, ice cream and cake was served in the dining room which was gay with Christmas colors. A birthday cake was illuminated with fourteen candles which were blown out by the guests. Miss Elsa, not only had the pretty birthday cake in her honor, but received handsome gifts.

BOTHERED BY THE NUMBERS

Protest Entered That the Figures Produce "Confusion Confounded"

Several months ago complaint was made to the city trustees that the numbering of houses on Santa Ana streets is without system and is confusing. It was stated that it was advisable that the city streets be renumbered, and that the numbering might be done right by the matter was referred to the city mail carriers for suggestions and a report. So far no report has been received, but that the numbering continues to bother people is evidenced by the following communication received by the Register:

Editor Register—Knowing that a word to you, even if uttered in protest, if it is for the public good of Santa Ana, is always welcome, I venture these few lines, and rest assured that your columns will bring about the desired change for the future permanent good of this community.

The proper numbering of houses, on any street of this city, especially in the older portion of Santa Ana, is in truth "confusion confounded." In many blocks the greater number precedes the lesser. This is easily accounted for. All new numbering, and modern structures, receive their rightful equivalent, regardless of the long past. This present state of affairs is a constant annoyance to strangers as well as to the more practical supplying of the needs of life. It can, and will, be changed, but now is the time, even before this city puts on metropolitan airs. Let the city trustees appoint a proper person, fully authorized to act, who shall canvass the whole city, and do the needful in all districts.

Still Wanted That Steer
"The funniest thing that Bill Nye—my brother—ever said," declared Representative Frank Nye of Minnesota, "was about a steer that ran away from him. Bill and I were boys when our parents moved to the U. S. We worked on father's farm. Bill got to getting enough money to buy a little steer, which he intended to break to harness and work. Several days after we got the steer home he disappeared and we never saw him again. We spent one entire day in the mountains hunting for him. That night, and it was after midnight when we got home, mother was in the road crying, thinking that we were lost. We had been lost and were hungry, tired and footsore. Twenty-five years later, when Bill was launching on his newspaper career, I received a letter from him. He was on his way to Europe. He told me that he had been offered a trip around the world by a big daily paper and thought he would accept it. For one particular reason I think I will take it, he wrote, and that is to see if I can't find that damned old steer."

WERE MARRIED AT RIVERSIDE

Fullerton Man and Glendale Girl Elope—Runaway Boy Caught

FULLERTON, Dec. 18, (Eloping on act parents' home in Glendale, 125 Sunny East and Robert E. Alson of this city, after a strenuous race for a county seat, were married at Riverside by an Episcopal minister. The groom went to Los Angeles Wednesday to engage in the barber business, but learning that both the parents were away from home, fled with the girl.

Marshal Stone, Friday caught Charles Paulson, who ran away from the State Industrial school at Chino and turned him back to the authorities. The boy was sent up about a year ago for stealing bicycles.

The Orange County grand jury was in session here Saturday as an auditboard, making an examination of the city books.

Five acres of orange's belonging to Earl Gage, in the Fullerton district, have been sold to G. W. Finch for $11,000.

RUSH OF THE CRESTED SEA.

Mount St. Michel's Tidal Wave One of the Sights of the World.

At 5 o'clock in the afternoon people gather on the causeway that connects the islet of Mount St. Michel with the French coast to watch the coming of the tide, one of the sights of the world.

As far as the eye can reach stretches the gray sand, silent, empty. Seven miles and a half lie between the ocean and the rock. Presently a strange murmur pervades the air. It seems to come from nowhere and yet to be everywhere.

And then far on the horizon lifts a line of white. Every moment it draws nearer, and the sound in the air swells louder, and then with astonishing speed up the line of crested sea, and in a moment, where it reaches the sands, there is but a space of swirling water. And on the waves ride in the fishing boats that have gone out to sea on the tide at dawn.

Many a tragedy has been caused by the swift rush of this true tidal wave, for, save along narrow paths, the bottom of this vast, strange bay is but quicksand, and after the tide has once turned and the sound of its coming is heard no man can hope to escape its reach unless he be close indeed to the mount or the shores of the mainland.—Travel Magazine.

A TAIL OF STRENGTH.

The Feet That Was Performed by Adargoma, the Wrestler.

Tradition has immortalized one Adargoma of Grand Canary, who could wrestle for two consecutive hours and, having been thrown undermost in a certain contest, got his antagonist between his legs and arms and squeezed him so that his bones began to crack.

The native was subsequently sent as a prisoner to Spain, where he astounded the people by his performances. One day in Seville he was visited by a brawny youth of La Mancha, who was anxious to try a bout with him. "My good friend," said Adargoma, "as we are going to wrestle together it is only reasonable that we should begin by drinking something."

A large bowl of wine having been brought, he took this in one hand and continued to address his challenger: "If with both your arms you can overpower one of mine so as to hinder me from drinking every drop of this wine we will try our strength together; if not, you may return to your home." The struggle took place, and Adargoma by degrees drained the bowl in the coolest manner without spilling a drop of the wine. His one hand was more than a match for the other's two.—London Spectator.

The Problem of the Glacier.

The curves of variation of glaciers which are collected in the Alpine museum in Berne show, according to Professor Brueckner, that the twenty-six great glaciers of Switzerland which were very extensive at the beginning of the nineteenth century thereafter receded, at first slowly and then more rapidly, until the close of the century. The course of recession was interrupted about the middle of the century by a brief advance, in which only two glaciers exceeded the limits that bounded them at the commencement of the century. The glaciers showed a second slight advance between 1800 and 1805. Although the curves of the various glaciers are similar in general, each exhibits well marked peculiarities, which make it difficult to trace any connection between climatic changes and fluctuations in glaciation. The problem of the glaciers is still involved in obscurity, and much patient research will be required to effect its solution.—Scientific American.

British Local Nicknames.

The residents of the English counties have nicknames the meaning and origin of which are not always obvious. Why the inhabitants of Liverpool should be called "Dicky Sams" is not very clear. But nearly all the counties have their distinctive nicknames. The Glaswegians are "Kee-ies," the Lancashire men are "Tim Robbins," Yorkshire men, again, are everywhere "Tykes," a nickname the etymology of which is not easy to trace. The inhabitants of Suffolk are designated "Dumplings," those of Kent "Hogs" and the Isle of Wight people "Calves."

THREE TIMES ALL TAXES IN

Anaheim Collector Reports
That There Are no
Delinquencies

ANAHEIM, Dec. 18.—At the meeting of the city trustees on Thursday night City Tax Collector Merritt reported that all taxes had been paid and that for the third consecutive year Anaheim would have no delinquent tax list.

E. L. Goodrich and J. F. Steadman, representing the fire department, addressed the board, and urged that the city purchase a motor hose wagon. Several recent fires have shown the necessity of increased facilities for fire protection, and the idea has been favored by leading business men of the city. The trustees liked the plan, but left the matter with the public improvement committee for investigation and report.

ASKING THEM TO VISIT SAN DIEGO

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 18.—The Panama-California Exposition and the San Diego County Chamber of Commerce have united to invite the exposition commissioners and the county supervisors of the counties of California to visit San Diego January 14, following their meeting in Los Angeles January 12-13.

In extending this invitation, two things are in consideration. One is to show the exposition commissioners the progress made in preparation and the other to discuss scope and character of the participation of the counties of California at the Panama-California Exposition. At the same time the visitors will be shown around San Diego and the immediate back country on an automobile tour.

The visit of the commissioners and supervisors to San Diego is also expected to be the means of convincing them that there is nothing in conflict between the purposes of the San

THE WORLD'S RECORD PRICE FOR VALENCIAS

All records were broken in Valencia, when the world's highest mark, $17.25 per box, was obtained in New York the other day for some strictly fancy fruit from Fullerton. This price was paid by Hicks & Son, fruiterers of 1179 Broadway. The nearest approach to these figures was $14.25, which the same brand sold for in 1905.

C. C. Chapman, owner of the fruit, was present at the sale and was interrogated by many buyers and dealers regarding the manner in which he prepares and markets his fruit.

"There is one thing that I never do," he remarked, "and that is to interfere with the marketing end of my oranges. I give the dealers carte blanche to dispose of them as they see fit. I do my best in the grading and packing and it is up to the sellers to get the best price possible for them."

Francisco World's Fair and the Panama-California Exposition. The two are quite distinct, making preparations for two expositions in California during the year of 1915, but neither interfering in scope or character with the other. The San Diego exposition will be unique and beautiful; will specialize on the great Southwest and the Latin-American republics, on archaeology, ethnology and history as applied to the progress of the Americas, and it is to show the commissioners and supervisors just what participation they can take in this project that the meeting is called at Los Angeles and the invitation is being extended to them to visit San Diego. Over 100 guests are expected.

Then and Now

Prior to the last fifteen years, by the time people had attained their first quarter of a century, they considered themselves pretty much formed as to physical and mental characteristics. If they were ambitious and energetic, they perhaps carried on some kind of exercise for their physical well-being, and guarded against mental deterioration as they advanced in years by occasionally taking up new studies or reviewing old ones; as a dear old lady of my acquaintance at the age of eighty-nine began to review her algebra to keep her mind active.

Now everything is changed. We cannot settle down comfortably in the thought of anything in the regular routine of life which we may not be called upon to alter at a moment's notice. Most of us have found that few of our established habits are right, and that unless we are willing to be left hopelessly behind our associates we must learn again all that we require in infancy, and that has since become a matter of automatic action.—From the Atlantic.

WATCHES FOR THE BLIND.

They Are Made With Raised Numerals and Without Crystals.

The fingers of a blind man were skimming over the pages of a book in the reading room for the sightless in the public library when he suddenly drew a watch from his pocket, opened the face, closed it with a snap and then placed his book on the table.

"It's 4 o'clock. I guess I'd better be going," he said to the librarian, who was hovering near to attend to the wants of her readers. The book was replaced on the shelf, and the blind man arose and departed.

The blind man's telling time by a watch impressed a visitor, who asked about it.

"You will find," said the librarian, "that most blind persons carry watches and often consult them. The watches are of the hunting case sort, but they have no crystal, and the numerals are embossed. The blind person opens the case, and by pressing his fingers lightly on the face he can tell the time instantly by the position of the hands. The watches are especially made for the sightless, the hands being made differently, so they may be distinguished at once.

"I have seen blind persons stand near an electric clock, that strikes once on the hour, and with watch in hand wait until the bell rings. As it does so they set their own by moving the minute hand around until it touches their thumb nail, which is held exactly at 12."—New York Times.

MEAT FOR MUSIC.

The Way Haydn's "Ox" Minuet Came to Get That Title.

There is no sensible reason for the titles attached to many pieces of music, some of them even classical selections. Most generally they are placed there as an attempt of some publisher to "boom" his stock and sell his goods. Then again, some peculiar titles may have their origin in incidents about as important as the following:

Haydn one day received a visit from a butcher who said that himself and his daughters were admirers of Haydn's music and as the young woman was soon to be married he made bold to ask that the composer write a minuet for her wedding. Kind "Papa Haydn" consented, and in a few days the man of meat obtained his music. Not long afterward Haydn was surprised to hear this same minuet played under his window. On looking out he saw a band of musicians forming a ring around a large ox, tastefully decorated with flowers. Soon the butcher came up and presented the ox to Haydn, saying that for such excellent music he thought he ought to make the composer a present of the best ox in his possession. Ever after this little composition was called the "Ox" minuet.—W. Francis Gates in "Anecdotes of Great Musicians."

How Franklin Learned Manners. Franklin collected thirteen principles to cover the small amenities of daily life. Each week he picked out one and practiced it diligently, thus creating a habit. It took three months to cover them all. Each year he practiced each one four full weeks. He kept this up for many years. The uncouth Franklin of early manhood who found fault with his wife for giving him a silver spoon and a china bowl for his bread and milk instead of a pewter spoon and earthenware crock, developed into the statesman and man of the world, who won the respect of Englishmen, the admiration of Frenchmen and the gratitude of Americans.—Harrington Emerson in Engineering Magazine.

Following In His Footsteps. Visitors to China are particularly struck by the numbers of pairs of boots hung in separate wooden cages in the archway of the main west gate of Hsiananhu, the valedictory gifts of beneficent prefects. It is an attractive custom in China to invite a departing magistrate whose rule has been popular to leave a pair of old boots for suspension in a prominent place as a hint to his successor to follow in his footsteps. It is a considerable honor to be asked to leave these boots, and the ruled make the request all the more eagerly because they believe in the efficacy of the hint.

The Play of "Othello." "Viewed exclusively as a dramatic fabric, 'Othello' is not only the best of Shakespeare's plays, but the best play in the English language," says William Winter in the Century. "No story could be more simple, direct, fluent and elementally tragic, but with what marvelous skill the poet has told it, with what ingenuity of invention, with what vibrant vitality of continuous action, with what ample and superb drawing of character, what prodigious volume of feeling, what tumult of surging and conflicting passion and what perfection of poetic style!"

A Little One. Figg—Talk about your green servant girls. My wife told ours to put a little nutmeg in the custard she was making this afternoon. Fogg—And did she do it? Figg—Oh, yes; she put a little nutmeg in, all right. I came near choking over the blamed thing.—Boston Transcript.

Aristocrat. The word "aristocracy" comes from the Greek "aristos" (best) and "archos" (rule), meaning the rule of the best. Literally aristocrat means the "best man."

God hath yoked to Gullit her pale tormentor, Misery.—Bryant.

The Tale of the Tie As Told by the S. P.

One-seventh of the twenty-five and a quarter millions of railroad ties that are in the Pacific system of the Southern Pacific roadbed have to be taken up each year and replaced with absolutely new ones. These ties, before being placed in the roadbed, must be treated either by creosote or with a chemical preparation known as the burnettizing treatment, before they can be used.

These interesting facts are taken directly from a statistical report of the maintenance of way department of the Southern Pacific Company. They are positively accurate. Besides this, they are a few truths about railroad operation that are seldom given to the readers of the newspapers.

There are a little more than twenty-five and a quarter million ties in the Pacific system of the Southern Pacific. At the renewal rate of one-seventh each year, and an average of 2800 ties to the mile, more than 240 miles of the Southern Pacific roadbed is rebuilt each twelve months. During the last ten years 20,998,490 ties in the roadbed of this road were taken up and replaced with new ones. Pine, fir, oak, cedar and redwood are the woods used by the Southern Pacific for its ties. With the single exception of the redwood, all are subject to the preservation process.

of softening the wood cells, then the vacuum is applied to extract the sap and water from the wood. After this the chloride of zinc is applied. More than a half day is required for this process, after which the ties are treated to a sun bath for several weeks. The creosoting process is essentially similar to burnettizing, except that dead oil of coal tar is used in place of zinc solution.

"There are four spikes in each tie and two tie plates. Bring your mathematical talents into play. The answer is 101,000,000 spikes and 50,999,000 tie plates in the Pacific system of the Southern Pacific. The tie plates weigh 6½ pounds each, the spike a half pound, making a total of 681,950,000 pounds of metal attached to these ties, not counting of course, the rails, which weigh 90 pounds to the yard, and the numerous tie rods.

City Assessor Expects nearly
All Outstanding in By January 1

There will be but a small amount of delinquent taxes when City Marshal Wilson and City Assessor Vegey turn the tax books over to the city on Jan. 1. Of the unpaid taxes on the books when city taxes became delinquent on the first Monday of this month, much has been paid and there now remains between $400 and $500. Most of that will be paid. Santa Ana as a rule has very little of its property go delinquent.

An old Irish woman in cultured Boston scrawled the following notice on a shingle and tacked it on the front door: "Washin' taken in and gone out dun hear."

DISCOVERED PLOT OF THE REYISTAS TO KILL MADERO

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 18.—A conspiracy to assassinate President Madero and proclaim a provisional presidency pending the coming of Gen. Reyes to the capital to assume the office of president, was frustrated at the last moment, in the opinion of the authorities, by the arrest yesterday of Gen. Higinio Aguilar and Meliton Hurtado of the federal army and a score of co-conspirators.

The plan, said to have been disclosed by correspondence and documents found in the possession of the prisoners, was complete in detail. Madero was to have been shot from a balcony of the Reforma hotel in Avenida de la Reforma as he rode from Chapultepec today.

In the confusion which this would create, the conspirators, who called themselves the "independent constitutional" army, were to swoop down upon the national palace, kill or seize the ministers, and take possession in the name of Reyes.

MADERO INVITES DIAZ TO RETURN TO NATIVE LAND

CHIHUAHUA, Mex., Dec. 18.—According to el Pueblo Vasco, a newspaper published in San Sebastian, Spain, General Porfirio Diaz has been asked by President Madero to return to his native land, and has been assured that he will receive every possible guarantee at the command of the country. The message to the aged ruler, it is said, was sent by former President de la Barra, who is special ambassador to Italy.

It is also said that Senor de la Barra's brother, who is in charge of the consulate at Seville, Spain, delivered a message in person to Diaz, manifesting the desire of Madero to see him once more in his native land.

The elder Pinkerton left the room, and when he returned took the precaution of holding a revolver in front of him.

He saw the criminal standing by the door with a snuffbox he had picked up from Pinkerton's desk in his hand.

"This is good snuff," attably remarked the crook as he took a sniff. "For the eyes or the nose?" asked Pinkerton, who knew that the crook had intended to blind him in an effort to escape.

"Well," remarked the criminal, "I'm sorry to say that the nose gets it this time."

ANOTHER FIRE IN NEWPORT

Home of Mr. and Mrs. John
Hewitt Guttered By Flames
Yesterday

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 18.—The cottage of Mr. and Mrs. John Hewitt, located in the highway just across the S. P. track from the Crosier lumber yard, was gutted by fire yesterday morning about 9 o'clock. The shell of the building, a trunk and some of the family clothing were saved.

The crew of a Pacific Electric car bound for Santa Ana, saw smoke issuing from the building as the car reached the Twenty-sixth street station, and promptly whistled an alarm, waiting at the station until the citizens were well aroused. The water works siren later joined in the alarm and cries of "Fire" were added to the exciting chorus.

One of the new chemical fire engines was used in conjunction with the city water system in putting out the fire, which is thought to have been caused by a blaze started by a two or three year old child of the family playing with matches. It was discovered in a clothes closet, where one of the older children had gone to get ready for Sunday school. He gave the alarm to his mother, who was alone in the house with her four children, one of them a baby. Mr. Hewitt having gone out hunting earlier in the morning. Mrs. Hewitt got the children out of the burning building, dragged out a trunk and saved some clothing before help arrived. Later neighbors took care of Mrs. Hewitt and her children while the men of Newport tried to save the little home. A sewing machine which Mrs. Hewitt had just succeeded in paying for was among the most valuable of the furniture lost. It was said there was but little if any insurance on the house.

Newport people were considerably alarmed when the cry of fire, the shrill whistle of the P. E. car and the screech of the water works siren rang out on the air. The serious fire that consumed the Peabody store and several other buildings recently has created a nervous tension that was shown plainly yesterday morning.

MAYOR EVANS IS TO BE PRESIDENT

Riverside Press: At a called meeting this morning the directors of the Riverside Agricultural Fair Association executed a master stroke in securing the consent of Mayor S. C. Evans, who retires from office in January, to become president of the organization.

The necessity for casting about for a new president became necessary because of the resignation from the directorate this morning of President A. J. Stalder, who urged that it be accepted on the ground that in assuming the office of city councilman next month he could not give the fair association the attention it should have.

Mr. Evans was elected a director in Mr. Stalder's stead, the meeting at which this action was taken being held in the council chambers. All that now remains to make Mr. Evans the official head of the organization is for the directors to meet and cast their ballots to that end. This action may be taken before night.

With Mr. Evans at the head of the association, and H. A. Hammond as vice president, the directors feel that the best possible foundation has been laid for the success of the undertaking. Mr. Hammond's experience with agricultural fairs in Illinois covers a period of nearly 30 years, and his experience, coupled with Mr. Evans' wide acquaintance and well known executive ability, makes the outlook for the fair proposition a bright one indeed.

It is understood that the committee on grounds have two or three different locations in view, and that they will be able to make a report in the near future.

WHY FARMERS WERE PUT IN

Explanation of the Wherefores in Regard to Phase of Liability Law

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18.—It seems to be necessary to devote a short series of these articles to a review of the considerations which influenced the legislature of California to include the farmer within the provisions of the Rosebury liability and compensation law. No little perturbation has existed in agricultural circles since the farmers learned that they were not excluded and it is due to them to have made a frank and full statement of the whys and wherefores thereof.

Farming is a hazardous occupation. A moment's reflection will show why this must be so. The farmers are using powerful machinery more and more year by year, and, for the most part, that machinery is being confined to untrained and inexperienced help. Without being an engineer, the farm worker must run engines, pumps, automobiles, electric motors, threshers, corn cutters for silos, barley crushers and what not. He drives teams across railroad tracks in and about switches and warehouses into which he unloads his product. He handles horses and mules, colts and young cattle. He is about among horned cows and must handle the head of the herd, who is like enough to go rampant any moment, knock him down and gore him. He climbs windmill towers at the risk of being swept off by any gust of wind that starts the mill to revolving, handles edged tools, does blacksmithing, and, not infrequently, blasts hardpan or tree stumps with blasting powder or dynamite. In short the farmer and his farm laborer are "Jacks-at-all-Trades," but experts at none, with the result that they run that maximum risk which does not attend the expert in his specialty.

Unfortunately, we in America have few statistics in relation to farm accidents or accidents of any other kind, but Germany has, and there is no very good reason to doubt that American farm accidents will not prorate with Germany's. If the German farm laborer averages more stupid than the American the American is using more machinery and works more hours and under greater pressure of hurry, and long hours and hurry are prolific sources of industrial accident.

For the year 1908, in Germany, 43½ per cent of all industrial accidents that laid workmen up for more than thirteen weeks happened in agriculture and horticulture. Of all deaths resulting from accident 30½ per cent occurred in the same occupation, both classes together in this country as farming. Of complete disability cases 32½ per cent occurred on farms, and of permanent partial disability the per cent was 45. Of temporary disability the farm percentage was also 45, or nearly half of the whole taking place in Germany. Of course there are more farm hands in Germany than are employed in any other single industry, about 17,000,000 out of a total of perhaps 25,000,000 in all, under insurance, but the farming hazard per 100,000 employed is greater than the average of all industries taken together.

In the United States we know what the casualty companies think about farm hazard because they rate it the same as that of the carpenter and higher than the machinist. If one will watch the papers he will be astonished at the number of accidents reported from among farmers or farm hands.

Is there any good reason why one who loses a hand in a planing mill should be compensated and compensation be denied to one who loses a hand in a thresher or feed chopper?

IOWANS WILL HOLD REUNION ON THE 28TH

Letter Has Been Addressed to Former Residents of Hawkeye State

The following letter is self-explanatory:

Los Angeles, Dec. 18, 1911,
Dear Fellow Iowan:

"A few Iowans were lunching together recently and it was suggested that it would be a pleasant and appropriate idea for former residents of the old Hawkeye State to take dinner together on the sixty-fifth anniversary of Iowa's Admission Day, December 28th, 1911. A number of our prominent men were consulted, and it seems to meet with hearty approval. Arrangements have been made to hold a banquet at the Westminster Hotel, Thursday evening, December 28th, seven o'clock sharp. The enclosed card will explain itself. "You are cordially urged to attend, and as we must know in advance how many places are desired we will ask you to return the card promptly indicating how many tickets are wanted and inclosing your check for same at the rate of one dollar per ticket. As the number who can be seated will be limited and as there will be a great demand for tickets, we suggest that you act promptly to assure yourself a place. Owing to the limited number who can be served it seems necessary to restrict this banquet to men only, but it is hoped that at a later date arrangements may be made for one for both ladies and gentlemen. The committee has been so fortunate as to secure the ever popular Iowa humorist, Robert J. Burdette, for toastmaster, and that prince of speakers, Rev. Matt. S. Hughes for the principal address of the evening.

"You are requested to let your friends know of this so as to insure their attendance, as the committee cannot know of all who will desire to be present. It must be fully understood that 'first come first served' will be the rule and you will give this fact publicity. Make your check payable to Frank H. Nichols and address him at the California Savings Bank, Broadway and Fifth, Los Angeles, or call on him at that place. Any further information will be gladly given by the chairman, secretary or treasurer of the committee.

"Yours very truly,

The Committee,
"Col. J. J. STEADMAN,
Chairman. Tel. 57194.

Not Lost Himself

He was a kind-hearted man, and the sight of the little nipper who stood waiting mournfully on the sands filled him with sympathy. He approached the youthful sufferer.

"Well, my little man," he said as cheerfully as he could, "what's wrong? Are you lost?"

"N-no," blubbered the little man, "I ain't lost."

"Then what's the matter? Tell me, and I'll see if I can help you."

Still the little one sobbed.

"It—it ain't me who's lost," he said sorrowfully. "B-but I'd like to know where father and mother's gone and wandered off to!"

Hill's Corner

This corner of the Kansas Tin Shop has been compelled to listen to a whole lot of wise and otherwise talk about monopoly and co-operation, the one being representative of the present condition of the industrial world and the other the condition that must prevail before we can have peace!

The monopolist is, according to the common acceptance, the man that, through industry and economy "makes good," having overcome all obstacles and has placed his business in a prosperous position.

We are told that he has "crowded other men to the wall" and that competition has been the weapon he has employed and therefore competition is all wrong and must give place to co-operation and then?—well, having listened to this thing for a long time led us to turn back the wheels of time a few short years and select a few notes from the records of the Kansas Tin Shop, by way of illustration.

About 10 or 12 years ago some of the plumbers of this coast conceived the idea that competition was ruinous and that co-operation would produce more satisfactory results and so there was organized the Master Plumbers Association and the Kansas Tin Shop (preferring competition) refused to become a member of the said association, whereupon every manufacturer and dealer in plumbing goods in the United States were employed to drive us out of the plumbing business and for a time they were partially successful.

There was co-operation against competition and just so far as it was successful the people "paid the freight." Next, prices were based on the S. P. system—what the traffic would bear.

MARTIN PLACED AMONG BIG ONES

Local Student in Aviation Will Take Part in the Janary Meet

That Glenn L. Martin, the Santa Ana birdman, is counted among the big possibilities and the big flying artists who are to take part in the January meet in Los Angeles is shown by the attitude of the Los Angeles sporting writers toward him. Martin has made good on every flight he has undertaken, beginning with his first exhibition in Santa Ana fifteen months ago with a frail, awkward craft that bore more risk than Martin then knew.

Martin made good at Dominguez last year, in his exhibitions in this state and in the high winds of Nebraska and Kansas. Yesterday's pink sheet of the Los Angeles Times had a review of various aviators who are to be at the Dominguez meet in January. Concerning Martin, the Times says:

"Glenn Martin is a product of California, so far as his aviation career is concerned. The flying germ was inoculated in Martin about the time that the peerless Paulhan caused spookchills among about half of Los Angeles' good citizens. Martin began work on some flying machines down at Santa Ana. Today he has four and a few more are coming through the shop. He has made good in every sense of the word.

"Martin is a close student of aviation and looks the part of the studious flyer. Some flyers retain their bones and gore through luck. Martin has maintained his grip on life through his mastery of the principles of aviation. He does not think luck is half as important as knowledge, but admits that in the absence of the latter the former comes in mighty handy. Martin has made a business of aviation. His profit sheet shows a good balance on the right side."

THE JOKE PROVED FATAL.

It Was a Gray Bearded Old One That Got In Its Deadly Work.

"What became of Bill Richardson?" I asked of a quaint character I met in one of my travels on a western railroad.

"It came about in this way," said the commercial agent who tells the story. "The reply of my companion for a day was: 'He died from the effect of the joke that had been played on nearly everybody in that town. It may have been an old one when the morning stars shouted together for aught I know, but it was new in our town and was sprung by a Maine Yankee who had been living in our burg for several years. His name was Charley Davenport, and he died many years ago. In his shuffling way he went from store to store and said that he had just heard that a well known citizen had got shot. Then the people who had listened asked where the man got shot. Davenport said in his drawing voice, 'He bought 'em.'"

"That very night, after everybody who had bit had got through cussing Davenport, Bill Richardson, the old hotel keeper of the town, was shot. Every one knew Bill Richardson. As soon as the accident occurred a friend of Bill rushed to a nearby doctor. He was a member of one of the big churches and was as well known for his piety as he was for curing nearly everything that came his way. But he was a very sensitive man. Richardson's friend who called on the doctor was greatly excited.

"Doc was upstairs when he was summoned to the window by loud knocks. He raised the window and asked what was wanted. The man below replied that old Bill Richardson had got shot. Now it happened that Davenport had sold doc that day on the old gag, and he was as mad as a harried hornet about it. So when the man below told him that old Bill Richardson had got shot doc forgot about his religion and yelled back: 'You go to blazes. I know where he got 'em!' And with that he slammed down the window and went to bed.

"Before the friend of old Bill Richardson could find another doctor old Bill had passed away. He might have died anyway, but if it hadn't been for that old joke he would have had a chance. The joke didn't stop with old Bill's death. It was soon noised about that doc had cussed from his window, and he was haled before the church session and there was a smart scandal for several days, but when it was explained how doc had been sold he was declared not guilty. I lived in the town several years after that and as long as I did I never heard of anybody playing a joke of any sort."—New York Herald.

Fat Man From Cincinnati

Bunn Helm, one of the fattest men Cincinnati ever produced, was at the ball game one afternoon when all the seats in the grand stand were taken. He took his stand back of the last row, presenting to those who walked along the passageway behind him a vast expanse of black coat and trousers.

After a little while Bunn was annoyed by feeling somebody butt into him. Looking around he saw that he had been hit by a boy who was carrying a tray full of ginger ale bottles and peanuts.

"Scuse me, sir," said the boy to the irate giant. "I thought you wuz de entrance."—Twice-a-Month Popular Magazine.

PARADISE BETTER THAN HONOLULU

Paradise of the Pacific Not In It With That Promised.

The Nation Born in a Day Does Not Refer to Heathen Conversion, Says Pastor Russell, but to "the Church Which is the Body of Christ"—"Whose Names Are Written in Heaven."

Honolulu, Hawaii, December 17.—As our ship neared your beautiful island I thought back a century to the time when these islands were uncivilized. It called to my mind the text, "Who hath heard such a thing? Who hath seen such things? Shall the earth be made to bring forth in one day? Shall a nation be born at once?"—Isaiah lxvi, 8.

Then I thought of how your island has been styled the "Paradise of the Pacific." The reality surpasses my expectations. Yet as I think of the glorious conditions which the Bible tells us shall prevail throughout the whole earth under Messiah's Kingdom, I perceive that even the "Paradise of the Pacific" falls far short of the "Paradise of God."

God has declared that the earth is His footstool, and that in due time under Messiah's Empire, He will make the place of His feet glorious.

The Last Enemy Death. It is because God has already dealt bountifully with your island and given you in advance many of those blessings promised to the whole earth that your island is styled a Paradise. Nevertheless, you all need to pray with the remainder of mankind for the coming of the Kingdom of Messiah and its blessings—"Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven."

Your cemeteries were early in evidence telling us that here, too, in this Paradise, men die. Your hospitals and physicians' signs tell us that here, too, men are sick. But in the Paradise which God has promised to establish under Messiah's Kingdom, the inhabitants will not say, "I am sick." Ultimately there will be no more sighing, no more dying, and no more crying because all the former things of sin and death will have passed away and He that shall sit upon the throne will make all things new. (Rev. xxi, 4, 5.)

The Holy Nation Born. Pastor Russell expounded his text, showing by the context that it refers to the resurrection of the Church. He declared that the begetting of the Holy Spirit in the present life constitutes God's people embryo new creatures in Christ; that this begetting and embryo development, according to the Scriptures, concludes in death, and that the resurrection moment, the attainment of glory, honor and immortality as spirit beings beyond the veil will be the birth of this new creation of God—the elect Church—"the Bride, the Lamb's wife."

Pastor Russell pointed to the declaration of the Apostle that Jesus in His resurrection became the "First-born from the dead,"—"the First-born among many brethren" who attain a similar resurrection, and who are, therefore, said to share in His resurrection. Our text points us down to the thousand-year day of Messiah's Kingdom—the day so long foretold—the day of earth's blessing, in which the "Sun of Righteousness" will scatter the darkness of sin and bring blessings to all mankind. It is the Psalmist who tells us that the Church will be blessed of the Lord in that glorious day, but in advance of the world. Thus we read, "God will help her right early in the morning." (Psalm lxxi, 5.)

That privileged time in which the Church will be helped, in which she will be passed from earthly conditions to heavenly conditions, is in our text spoken of as her birthday. St. Peter tells us that the Church is the Holy Nation to which God frequently refers in the prophecies. (1 Peter ii, 9.) The Head of the Church was born from the dead more than eighteen centuries ago; the Body is to come forth now, the Holy Nation complete, perfect and fully equipped by the lessons and experiences passed through in the present life.

To this Holy Nation will be given the control of the world under the supervision of her Lord and Redeemer. "To him that overcometh I will grant to sit with Me in My throne"—"I will give him power over the nations—he shall rule them with a rod of iron." Through this nation blessing is to proceed to all the families of the earth.

CHRISTMAS SEAL ENVOI

By William L. Ninabuck.
(With apologies to Kipling.)

When our last seal is disposed of, the workers are weary and tired; When the millionth message is carried and the remnant heap has been fired,

We shall rest and faith we shall need it, lie down a whole night or two Till the Spirit of Human Kindness shall set us to working anew.

And those that have bought shall be happy, and those that have sold beside. To know that their million pennies are stemming the White Plague tide;

Are bringing and teaching the Life, code, nurses and sunshine and air, Assuring the dwellers of death haunts that Hope is still young and fair.

And no one shall wreak a havoc and levy against the game, Not when the curse of the plague-heart would point his eternal shame!

But all for the joy of working shall move toward a far-hung star For the health of Man as Man sees it, for the God of things as they are.

I'D RATHER BE A CHRISTMAS SEAL
I'd rather be a Christmas Seal
With a little sticky back
Than all the high-priced furry ones
In the whole Arctic pack.

I'd rather be a Red Cross Seal,
At a hundred for a dollar,
Than just a useless lady's muff,
Or a lake-warm sort of collar.

I'd rather be a busy seal
And be called a germ stamp
Than be the proudest furriest prince
Of the whole North Pole camp.

Verse seven pictures the Church as a mother, and pictures Messiah as a man—the Head of the Church which is His Body. This is the great Deliverer referred to by St. Paul in Romans xi, 26. He it is that, coming out of Zion, shall be the Deliverer of Israel, who shall "turn away ungodliness from Jacob." Verse 9 connects the resurrection birth of the Head with the resurrection birth of the Body. Would God bring forth the Head, Jesus, and then fall to bring forth the Church, His Body? Nay, verily! His faithful shall share in "His resurrection" as promised.—Philippians iii, 10.

U. S. FOREST SERVICE DEALS WITH PROBLEMS OF GRAZING

Stops Waste of Surplus Forage--Increases Grazing Range--Plants Various Species of Forage Grass

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 18.—Associate Forester A. F. Potter, representing the Forest Service, addressed the annual convention of the National Woolgrowers' Association at Omaha recently, as follows:

Realizing the importance of the livestock industry to the general welfare of the West, the Forest Service, from the beginning of its administration of the national forests, adopted a constructive policy for dealing with grazing problems. Most of the mountain ranges which have been included in the national forests had been occupied by the flockmasters long before the forests were created. With the demand for summer range in many localities greater than the supply, there had followed overgrazing and serious damage, while absolute waste of a large portion of the forage crop was taking place. Many ranges were fast deteriorating, though carrying no more stock than could be permanently sustained under proper regulation.

The first thing was to check the damage and waste with the least possible curtailment of grazing privileges. Such divisions of the range were made as would secure the use of each portion by the kind of stock to which it was best adapted and give each group of owners, so far as possible, the use of the range upon which they had customarily grazed their stock. Then it was decided what portions should be used only during the summer, what ones during the winter, spring, or fall, and what portions during the entire year, with the dates at which the grazing season should begin and close in normal seasons.

These measures did much towards stopping waste of surplus forage and showing that better methods were worth while. Attention was next given to extending the area of available range through encouraging the development of watering places and opening trails to make accessible unused ranges. Unfortunately it has been necessary to make quite heavy reductions on some forests to enable overgrazed ranges to recuperate, but such reductions have been made gradually in order not to cause undue business disturbance. The increased number of stock, however, provided for on other ranges has nearly offset the reductions. There were grazed on forests this last year 1,442,000 cattle and horses and 7,450,000 sheep and goats.

The collective grazing capacity of the national forests is now on the increase. Energetic efforts have been made by the Forest Service to promote the utilization of surplus forage which now goes to waste in northern Washington, Idaho, and Montana. The removal of the forage crop in a proper way greatly reduces the fire damage.

If grazing is too close, however, the reproduction of the forest is interfered with. Many timberland owners are willing to offer grazing privileges upon extremely favorable terms because they are not planning to grow another crop of trees. Replanted areas must be closed again for grazing for a few years, and where reproduction is difficult cut-over areas must be protected, by reducing if not excluding the stock, until the young trees are out of danger from trampling and nibbling. Since, however, the area cut-over and that replanted each year form, combined less than one per cent of the total area of the forests, no serious interference with grazing is involved.

Careful investigations of the damage done young trees by stock in the Southwest showed over twenty per cent of the seedlings and young trees seriously injured, and in some cases on ranges used extensively by sheep over fifty per cent, but the most damage was done when feed was scarce and was therefore largely due to overgrazing. The immediate and urgent problem which now confronts us is the development of the ranges to the highest possible state of productivity.

The gradual increase of the carrying power of the ranges will be brought about through improved methods of handling stock and of growing the forage crop. A careful study is under way to ascertain the character of all land within the forests, the kind of stock to which each natural grazing unit is adapted, the natural periods of use, and the undergrazed, fully-grazed, and overgrazed areas.

Experiments in lambing sheep in small enclosures proved that, under some conditions at least, a saving of lamb and labor can be made more than enough to offset the cost of the coyote-proof pasture experiments. A regular herder, without assistance from the Forest Service, handled the sheep with the same results in expense, amount of range required, and percentage of loss, and the same increase in weight of lambs, as in preceding years. The mountain bunch-grass range investigations have shown, by proper rotation in the grazing, to secure thorough natural reeding of overgrazed land without serious decrease of the number of stock while the range is being restored.

Many forage species have been tested through artificial reseeded experiments. The introduction of new grasses is a very difficult problem. Redtop was found to succeed better than any other cultivated grass on poorly drained bogs where the soil is acid, while Hungarian brome grass is better adapted to arid localities. Timothy is fairly drought resistant and yet can be depended upon to make a good stand in moist meadows. On the lands studied the most promising cultivated species or range reseeded were found to be, named in the order of their importance, timothy, Hungarian brome, Italian rye, redtop, Kentucky bluegrass, alsike and white clover, orchard grass, tall meadow oat grass, Canadian bluegrass, and hard or sheep fescue. In all cases except in parts of the Southwest fall seeding has given much better results than sowing in spring.

It is important that stockmen strengthen their organizations and keep up a live interest in them here are now sixty-eight advisory boards, representing local livestock associations, which are co-operating effectively with the Forest Service in the settlement of grazing problems. Advisory boards of both the American National Livestock Association and the National Woolgrowers' Association are being consulted and are giving valued assistance with regard to matters which affect the interests of the stockmen as a whole. Matters of vital interest to every flockmaster in the land are continually coming up, and call for efficient organizations of range users. The Forest Service is entering new fields of scientific range management and is engaged upon problems of great interest to the stockgrowers. With their co-operation we shall be able to better meet the needs of the flockmasters and make the forests more useful to all of the people.

DON'T WAIT

Take Advantage of a Santa Ana Citizen's Experience Before It's Too Late

When the back begins to ache, Don't wait until backache becomes chronic.

Till serious kidney troubles develop. Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest.

Profit by a Santa Ana citizen's experience.

P. G. Etchison, 820 E. St., Santa Ana, Calif., Says: "Since using Doan's Kidney Pills in 1907, I have had little need of a kidney remedy. A dose or two on a few occasions when I have noticed pain in my back has sufficed to relieve the trouble. My opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills as was expressed in a public testimonial I gave two and a half years ago, remains unchanged, as I value them as highly as ever. I was subject to attacks of kidney trouble for months and if I brought any strain on my back, I was sure to suffer from backache. Knowing that this misery was due to disordered kidneys, I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Dean's Drug Store. They went directly to the seat of the complaint, and I could not have asked for greater benefit."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
